

ONE KILLED, 13 INJURED. . .

Frankfurt bombing mystery

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army says it has no indication who bombed one of its headquarters in Frankfurt Thursday night, killing a lieutenant colonel and injuring 13 persons. Frankfurt police declined to comment on speculation that the explosions were a protest against U.S. policies in Vietnam.

"Anyone could have planted the bombs," said a military policeman on duty when they went off about 7 p.m., Spec. 4 Ted Bloyd of Houston, Tex. "There was a tour group going into the building at the time, and anyone could have carried them in a suitcase."

Frankfurt Police Chief Knut Mueller said he saw no reason to call off a demonstration today against the Vietnam war organized by the Communist party. But he said the protesters would be kept away from U.S. installations and he had called in auxiliaries to help control them.

The strongest of the three bombs collapsed the ceiling between the two stories of an officers' club and blew out the windows across the front of the building.

The army said Lt. Col. Paul A. Bloomquist, 39, Salt Lake City, Utah, died of wounds suffered when he was caught by one of the three blasts

Most of the injured—who included one American woman and two German women employed by the club—were inside the club when the blasts went off.

Most of the injured were cut by glass shards from the shattered windows. One underwent surgery.

A second bomb went off in a cafeteria and a third exploded inside the entrance to the main office building, a seven-story structure that has been a U.S. Army headquarters since World War II.

The Army said six MP's were in a guardroom off the entrance hall, but none was seriously injured.

It was the first such bombing of an American installation in the 27 years since World War II that U.S. troops have been stationed in West Germany. But American businesses, the U.S. consulate in Frankfurt and the local America House library often have been targets for rock throwers and fire bombers protesting American actions in the Vietnam war. Similar attacks have been carried out in West Berlin.

Hijacker safely eludes police in Honduras wilds

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The Eastern Air Lines hijacker who bailed out over Honduras with $303,000 in ransom apparently landed safely and escaped into the countryside.

The government said Thursday night that a parachute harness and jumpsuit believed discarded by the hijacker were found by government agents Wednesday on Mt. Sorocon, on the border of Atlantida and Yoro counties in northern Honduras.

Capt. Carlos Rene Sagastume, director of the National Investigation Department, said the parachute itself was probably carried off by poor farmers in the area and that he doubted the hijacker had left the country.

Residents told Sagastume's men they had seen a man with a back pack and small suitcase sitting on the ground counting money and using tissues to wipe sweat from his face and that he had disappeared into the jungle. Agents said they found used tissues in the area.

The residents also said the man's shoulder and hands were injured, but a search of hospitals and clinics in the area produced no information on him.

The hijacker, described by the Eastern crew as a Vietnam war veteran about 45 years old, hijacked the plane shortly after it took off from Allentown, Pa., last Friday morning on a flight to Miami. He collected the ransom from the airline in Washington, D.C., where he allowed the 48 passengers to get off. Then the pilot flew to New Orleans, but a mechanical failure developed, and the crew and hijacker switched to another plane.

The hijacker had said he wanted to go to Belize, capital of British Honduras. The plane did fly over British Honduras, apparently on orders of the hijacker, who had in his possession a gun, two bush knives, two crash helmets, food, drink, and cigarettes.

A $25,000 reward has been offered for information leading to the hijacker's capture.
