

CUT IN LINE OF DUTY—Pfc. Charles Donnelly of the 109th MP Pltn, blood streaming down his face after he was cut by flying glass, is questioned by MP colleagues about the explosion at V Corps Hq in Frankfurt. He was on duty at the time of the blasts Thursday evening. In right photo, an unidentified military policeman stands between the shattered glass doors at the entrance to the I.G. Farben Building.

BOMB FRAGMENTS CHECKED—An EOD (explosive ordnance disposal) man holds some bomb fragments in his hand as he sifts through the debris in the wake of the explosions in the I.G. Farben Building. With the V Corps Hq area put under stringent surveillance, MPs and security personnel
