

A FOURTH ANARCHIST SEIZED BY GERMANS

Special to The New York Times

BONN, June 7 — The Hamburg police today announced the arrest of a leading member of a band of anarchists that has claimed responsibility for bomb blasts that killed four American servicemen and injured 30 persons last month. The arrest is the fourth in West Germany in a week.

The police seized Gudrun Ensslin, 31 years old, sought for two years since she participated in freeing Andreas Baader, 29, from a Berlin jail. Miss Ensslin is also wanted for bank robbery. She was arrested in a downtown shopping center.

Baader was captured last Thursday in Frankfurt after an exchange of fire with policemen. Two other suspects, Holger Meins, 30, and Jan-Carl Raspe, 27, were also seized then.

The ideologist of the group, Ulrike Meinhof, 37, a former journalist, is still at large, as are 14 other associated with it. The group, self-styled the Red Army Faction and popularly known as the Baader-Meinhof gang, consists of leftist-anarchists and preaches terror against imperialism as a means of achieving revolution.

The members are suspected of a series of thefts of cars, weapons, explosives and documents, and of bank robberies and several clashes with the police in which at least three policemen have been killed.

The New York Times

Published: June 8, 1972

Copyright © The New York Times